Location

The Walton-on-Thames is a market town on the south bank of the river Thames. The town itself consists mostly of affluent suburban streets, with a historic town centre of Celtic origin. It is one of the largest towns in the Elmbridge borough and according to the 2011 Census, the town has a total population of 22,834 and the borough 136,400 .

It is around 19 miles from Central London and is served by a wide range of transport links.

The town is well located just to the south of the A308 trunk road, which provides direct access to junction 12 of the M25 (London orbital Motorway) approximately 7 miles away. Walton is approximately 7.5 miles from Heathrow Airport and 31 miles from Gatwick.

Walton-on-Thames is served by Walton-on-Thames main line railway station, which provides 4 trains per hour to London Waterloo, with the semi-fast services taking only 25 minutes to reach the terminus. This has proven pivotal to the demographics and to the town's growth/development. The Heart is an exciting retail and residential complex built in the 1960s. The main part of the centre, has several brand retailers including Next, Waterstone's, H & M and River Island. Restaurants along the New Zealand Avenue side of The Heart include Carluccios, Nando's, Pizza Express and Wagamama. Further restaurants exist along the High Street.
