ACCOMMODATION

Bessells is a charming and varied home with an interesting history and includes many features of a previous time. The current owner has sympathetically renovated the home blending modern style with classic features. Upon entry to the home stone steps lead to the hallway which enjoys a light and airy feel, laid to wooden flooring includes built in storage and a cloakroom. A lovely feature harking to a different era is an old lift with original door and control panel which is now used as a storage cupboard. The heart of the home is the flowing kitchen, dining sitting room, which is a light space with outstanding views. The kitchen area is situated to the front of the building with wonderful views from the kitchen sink. Included is a range of blue and grey wall and base units with a grey counter top with a range of integrated appliances. The dining area enjoys a frosted bay window and leads to the sitting room overlooking the rear garden and views beyond, with a feature double sided dual fuel wood burner and a Jefferson door leading to the adjoining room. The room is laid to hard flooring and has French doors leading to the rear garden. The office includes a bay window and could be arranged as a ground floor bedroom. A wet room and boot room is nearby which is currently used for dog grooming but could be altered to a shower room. A half stair case leads to a utility room and a double bedroom situated to the front of the property with a neighbouring bathroom.

Rising to the first floor there is large and welcoming landing with a range of built in storage. The master bedroom is a particular feature, a large dormer window overlooks the rear garden with views to Hambleton Hill and farmland. The room has a comprehensive range of built in wardrobes and storage and an adjoining ensuite with a glazed roof set above the shower cubicle. A further bedroom is situated on this floor with large velux windows flooding the room with light and a range of built in eaves storage. Completing this floor is a modern family bathroom.

OUTSIDE

The property is approached by a driveway with parking for two vehicles and provides access to the garage and workshop. The rear garden is a particular feature with outstanding views towards Hambledon Hill and surrounding farmland. A good sized patio adjoins the home enjoying a sunny aspect and providing substantial space for outside dining. The remainder of the garden is laid to lawn bound by established and colourful borders interspersed with trees.
